

PARISHIONERS AWAIT DECISION OF BISHOP

Esther Memorial Congregation, Anacostia, Anxious to Have a Rector.

WASHINGTON TIMES BUREAU, ANACOSTIA, D. C., NOV. 11.

The members of the congregation of the Esther Memorial Protestant Episcopal parish at Congress Heights are awaiting anxiously the decision of the Right Rev. Alfred Harding, the Bishop of Washington, as to the selection of a rector for the Congress Heights field.

Bishop Harding has promised the officials of the parish named that he will aid them in obtaining the services of a rector, but his choice has not been announced yet, although the members of the congregation are being advised momentarily of his action. In the meantime the Rev. Charles Sontag, a former Episcopal rector of the city, is serving in the Esther Memorial Church. The Ladies' Guild of the church have given an oyster supper in the town hall, on Alabama avenue, for the benefit of the church, and the liberal patronage of the citizens of the community made possible the success of the event.

There is no longer any doubt that the Washington Railway and Electric Company will construct an additional street car track along Nichols avenue to Congress Heights from the present transfer station on the avenue, thus installing the double-track system. This done, it is the intention to operate through cars between Congress Heights and Washington, doing away with the transfer of passengers in Anacostia. It is learned that the plans of the company in this direction have been determined upon. The time for the commencement of the work has been discussed even, and it is believed that within a few months, certainly not later than next spring, the laying of the new track will be in progress.

Capt. Thomas King, of the District National Guard, has reported to the police of the Eleventh precinct the theft from the rifle range at Congress Heights of a pair of field glasses with black leather case, valued at $10.

The police of the Eleventh precinct have been notified several times of late concerning the theft of flowers from hot houses. The latest florist to make report of a case of this kind is Samuel H. Lucas.

The revivals in the Anacostia Methodist Episcopal Church, which began on Sunday evening last, are being largely attended each night, and there is a prospect for their continuance for several weeks.

The members of St. Teresa's parish, of Anacostia, have subscribed liberally to the tickets for the lecture on Sunday evening, when the Rev. Matthew Gleason, chaplain in the United States Navy, will speak on the tour of the world by the battleship fleet. The lecture will be illustrated, and given for the benefit of St. Teresa's Parochial School.

OFFICIALS IN AERO ENJOY FIRST TRIP

Postmaster General and Gen. Allen Hope to Repeat Experience.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 11.—Postmaster General Hitchcock and Gen. James Allen, chief of the Signal Corps, U. S. A., are richer in experience today because they have been in the upper air.

Mr. Hitchcock made a flight with Count de Lesseps and General Allen ascended with the same intrepid flier at the aviation meet in Baltimore yesterday. They were members of a party that included Secretary of War Dickinson, Gen. William V. Wright, of the Army War College; Count Zeppelin, minister from the Netherlands; Baron Rosen, the Russian ambassador; and other officials.

Mr. Hitchcock may make another ascent. He wished Archie Hoxsey to take him up after his flight with the count yesterday, but Hoxsey said the upper air was too gusty for safe going. General Allen was pleased, too. He was very much interested in experiments in the use of small arms and bombs from aeroplanes.

In the bomb throwing contest Latham scored fifteen points with six bombs. One of his tries resulted in the placing of a bomb in the funnel of a warship as indicated on the target. Though under the rules of the Barry trophy contest the missiles must be delivered from a height of not less than 100 feet, Latham dropped some of his from twice that height. Drexel was fairly successful in the contest.

Rain interrupted the meet about 4 o'clock.

CURRENCY REFORM FINANCIERS MEET

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Representatives of the banking and financial interests in all sections of the country assembled in conference at Columbia University today, under the auspices of the American Academy of Political Science, to discuss the great problem of currency reform.

The program of the meeting covers two days, and provides for addresses and papers by many eminent bankers, economists, and representatives of the Treasury Department, at Washington. Coincident with the conference is the meeting of the National Monetary Commission in this city, the several members of which, including Senator Aldrich, the chairman, are to address the conference at one of its sessions.

WORLD IS DANCING MAD AND FAD IS GROWING

So Says Marie Fanchionetti, Premiere Danseuse of "Three Twins."

Has the world gone dancing mad? Every theater, music hall, and house of entertainment in both the old and the new world is being invaded by an army of dancers of both sexes and representing every conceivable kind of dancing, and some that are inconceivable. No musical comedy or comic opera can hope to be successful if it is not plentifully supplied with airy measures for the light fantastic toes of bevy of dancers.

There are tremendous distinctions in dancing. Yet they are all part of the same art, and are all attempts to express the rhythm of motion. Miss Marie Fanchionetti, of the "Three Twins" company, which comes to the National next week, endeavors not merely to demonstrate the poetry of motion in her "Hypnotic Waltz," but also to define and portray emotions and sentiments. She wishes to revive the ancient Grecian art of dancing and possibly develop it. It is her claim that there is no shade of human feeling, which cannot be expressed by dancing in a manner far more beautiful than it could by language, painting, or statuary.

"The fascination which dancing has had for humanity is as old as the race itself," she said to day on her arrival in Washington, "and it is found equally among the most primitive and the most enlightened. It is confined to no part of the earth or to any particular nation."

"For centuries, however, the art of dancing has held a comparatively low place in the estimation of the West, and even as a form of amusement has never ranked with singing and acting. It has been confined mainly to ecclesiastical or vaudeville stage, and the unmeaning dances which are practiced at balls."

The change which has come over the world is strikingly illustrated by the fact that crowds have thronged to see the dancing of different persons, Miss Fanchionetti pointed out. Today the greatest actors in legitimate drama must divide public interest with a few women, who, at least, partially, have revived the lost art of Greece.

"The Salome dances performed by Maud Allen and others, over which there has been aroused such a storm of criticism, protestation and defense," she said, "have this one distinctive feature: they represent an effort to express, through dancing, human emotions. However, their real importance lies in the fact that they mark what promises to be an epoch in the history of art."

Miss Fanchionetti, in the "Hypnotic Waltz" and her "Yama Yama" dance in "Three Twins," has been careful to avoid in her dancing any remote hint of suggestiveness. She endeavors to portray by her art hope, joy, grief, anticipation, satisfaction, and a thousand other emotions and refinements of emotion, which are really nameless.

SOUSA IS IMPROVING.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 11.—It is expected that John Philip Sousa, who has been in a hospital here for some days, suffering from a slight attack of malaria, will be out in a few days.

ELMENDORF CLOSES TALKS WITH "PARIS"

Grants Requests for Repetition of Lecture on "Famous Paintings."

The fascination of Paris and the drawing power of Dwight Elmendorf combined to attract another capacity audience to the National Theater yesterday afternoon for the final lecture of the series in Washington.

It will not be his last appearance here this season, though, for he has acceded to the suggestion of The Times last Sunday and a number of individual requests to repeat the talk on "Famous Paintings," and this will be done on January 19.

Many travelers disagree with Mr. Elmendorf on the absence of poverty in the French capital like that which exists in London and continental cities, but since the "Art, Beauty and Luxury" of Paris was the full title of the lecture he might be forgiven for omitting unpleasant details.

Mr. Elmendorf took his audience through the frequented paths of sight-seeing, spent a half hour on a Seine boat, halted a moment at the entrance to the Opera and disclosed some of the marble treasures of the Louvre.

Distinctive features of the afternoon were scenes taken at the Grand Prix and the products of eight moving picture machines the lecturer set to work at the aviation meet at Rheims.

STRYKER MAY GET DR. WILSON'S PLACE

President M. W. Stryker, of Hamilton College, may be called to succeed Governor-elect Wilson, of New Jersey, as president of Princeton University. It is suggested that President Stryker is especially qualified on account of the similarity of his administrative affairs.

RUFFIAN SHOOTS A BRIDEGROOM

ERIE, Pa., Nov. 11.—James Albey, a bridegroom of two days, was shot and mortally wounded early today at Northeast, sixteen miles east of this city, by one of four men, roughly dressed, who had been noticed loitering about the Gray Company building. Albey was night watchman.

COUNT COMPLETED BY ELECTION BOARD

Majority for Lewis, Democratic Representative, 643 In Montgomery County.

ROCKVILLE, Md., Nov. 11.—The majority of David I. Lewis, Democratic candidate for Congress in this district in Montgomery county, was 643, according to the official count made here by the supervisors of elections for Montgomery county sitting as a board of canvassers. The total vote of each was: Lewis, 3,165; Warner, 2,522; Finley C. Hendrickson, Prohibitionist, received 139 votes, and Paul Oswald Weber, Socialist, received 24 votes in the county.

Martin Redmond was before Justice Reading in the police court here yesterday to answer a charge of hunting on Sunday in violation of a law passed by the last Legislature. He was arrested on a warrant sworn out by Deputy Game Warden James W. Beavers, who charged that he was hunting near Garrett Park last Sunday. Redmond pleaded guilty and Justice Reading, in view of the fact that it was the first prosecution under the law, imposed the smallest fine allowable.

Edward C. Peter, of Rockville, yesterday became associate judge of this judicial circuit composed of Frederick and Montgomery counties, by subscribing to the oath before the clerk of the circuit court at this place. The oath was administered in the presence of a number of members of the bar and others, and Judge Peter was heartily congratulated.

Judge Peter was appointed by Governor Crothers to succeed Judge James B. Henderson, whose term expired several days ago. He will serve under the appointment until the fall of next year, when a judge will be elected for the full term of fifteen years.

At the opening of the November term of the circuit court here next Monday morning, a committee, consisting of Charles W. Prettymann, Alexander Kilgour, Robert E. Peter, Bowie F. Waters, and W. Outerbridge Spates, will present resolutions upon the retirement of Judge James B. Henderson as an associate judge of the circuit. The resolutions will be ordered spread upon the minutes of the court and a number of the members of the bar will deliver addresses. The committee was appointed at a meeting of the members of the bar, which was presided over by Hatterly W. Talbot, president of the bar association.

Revival services, that are attracting large crowds, are in progress in the Baptist church at this place. Rev. C. S. O. Wallace, of Baltimore, occupies the pulpit each evening and the pastor, Rev. O. W. Henderson, assists in the services.

RIVERS OVERFLOW; 2,000 ARE HOMELESS

PARIS, Nov. 11.—Probably 2,000 persons are homeless as the result of a serious flood situation which has developed in eastern France. The Moselle and its tributaries are over their banks and many villages have been inundated. At Nancy alone it is estimated that more than 1,000 are homeless. The river Saone threatens to overflow.

Feet So Sore Couldn't Walk Down Stairs-- TIZ Cured Her Quick

If you have sore feet, tired feet, sweaty feet, lame feet, tender feet, smelly feet, corns, calluses or bunions, read what happened to Mrs. Crockett, of Jeffersonville. TIZ DID IT. Mr. Crockett says: "After the second treatment she walked downstairs one foot at a time. She has not been able to walk downstairs before in past five years, except by stepping down on each step with one foot at a time. This is remarkable. Send five more boxes."

No matter what ails your feet or what under heaven you have used without getting relief, just use TIZ. It's different. It acts right off. It cures sore feet to stay cured. It's the only foot remedy ever made which acts on the principle of drawing out all the poisonous exudations which cause sore feet. Powders and other remedies merely clog up the pores. TIZ cleans them out and keeps them clean. You will feel better the first time it's used. Use it a week and you can forget you ever had sore feet. There is nothing on earth that can compare with it. TIZ is for sale at all druggists, 25c per box, or direct, if you wish, from Walter Luper Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill. Recommended and sold by O'Donnell's Drug Stores.

Want to See a Play?

Most of us don't know how. We look at the stage, the actors, the situations, but we don't really see them. But we can. We can know the secrets of the stage,—why this play is good and that one bad; why Sarah Bernhardt at sixty-seven can play a girl of seventeen; why Julia Marlowe "gets a dollar and fifty cents' worth out of every dollar word." We can easily get a dollar and fifty cents' worth out of every dollar we spend in the theater. It's worth while. Read "How to See a Play," by Gellett Burgess, in the December DELINEATOR.
